

K-Love serves our community by providing inspiring music, moral commentary, and guidance in many areas of every-day life (personal finance management, child rearing). Isn't this the type of influence that steers citizens in the right direction? If K-LOVE were gone, the jump-start to a positive day would be ripped from the mornings of commuters and at-home parents providing safe listening for their children. Don't let LPFM displace K-LOVE!!